Traffic Toll In Ohio Drops Over Week-end; Five Lives Are Lost

Automobiles Delayed On Lincoln Highway Near Lisbon When Machines Crash; Woman Burns To Death As Car Upsets on Michigan Road

Automobiles met deaths on high-ways of the week end, a checkup of the National News Service re-ported today.

The toll is the smallest to be re-ported any week end this summer. Threatening rain and showers were figured in keeping thou-ands of the roads, which result- in fewer deaths.

Mrs. Ralph Boyd, 29, of Clevel-land was burned to death when the car in which she was riding up- set after a 10-foot embankment. She died near Grand Rapids, Mich., relatives at Cleveland were told.

Traffic was delayed for more than an hour on Lincoln highway near Lisbon and Canton yester- day when the cars of Charles Maur- tr, Braddock, Pa., and Chester- land, Minerva, O., crashed head- on. Three persons were injured.

Two persons were hurt near Chin Falls when a woman driver bandoned her car on a hill. The car plunged into another and then tumbled into two others parked at the foot of the grade.

H. B. Sebring, 65, was crushed to death when his car overturned and plunged over a 10-foot embankment after it had struck a rut in a road five miles from his home near Kent in Delaware county.

Miss Helen Hunt, 26, was killed and five other persons were injured when a Cincinnati man, when a automobile crashed into a tele- phone pole in Columbus.

Antonio Pannunzio was killed in a automobile when run down by an automobile early Monday.

EARTH TREMORS IN LOS ANGELES

Western City Visited By
Two Shocks Today;
No Damage

Los Angeles, Calif., July 8.—Two shocks, believed to have been earth- quakes, were felt in Los Angeles at 8:44 and 9:10 this morning.

The shocks were felt in business buildings in the downtown section. There appeared to be two distinct tremors, one immediately follow- ing the other. The force of the movement appeared to be directly north and south.

The disturbances were character- ized as "earth shocks" by the United States weather bureau.

The shocks occasioned some ex- citement in large office buildings but the excitement quickly calmed.

The weather was cloudy with a high fog. This was not what has be- come known as "possible earthquake weather."

In Inglewood, California, where the earth shocks were felt ap- proximately four years ago, doing heavy damage, and resulting in the death of several persons, appeared to be the most heavily disturbed section of the tremors today. People ran from their houses, fearing a repetition of the previous shocks.

The shock also was felt at San Pedro, 25 miles from Los Angeles, which is known as Los Angeles har- bor.

Officials of the Pacific States Tel- ephone and Telegraph Company said the shocks were not felt in Pasadena, Santa Barbara, nor El Centro, indicating that the tem- pers were of a local nature and confined to the section in and around Los Angeles.

Youths Held For Zanesville Police

Two youths alleged to have been involved in the theft of valuable copper and brass wiring in Zanesville, were arrested by Salem police Saturday and turned over to Mus- kingum county authorities Sunday.

They were Elmer Smith and Wil- liam Grimes, both former residents of Zanesville, and who had been em- ployed at the Mullins Manufactur- ing corporation for several weeks. They resided at 126 Depot st.

The two are alleged to be part of a youthful gang of seven allegedly implicated in the theft. W. A. Mc- Farland, Muskingum county sheriff, notified Police Chief Thompson of their residence here, and yesterday they were taken to the county jail.

Thompson and Patrolman Jesse Gray arrested the youths.

Youngsters Admit Torturing Friend To Death In Game

Flint, Mich., July 8.—Two boys, 11 and 14 years old—who were charged with torturing to death Merrill Putnam, their seven-year-old playmate, today admitted they had "beat" him in an "initiation" ceremony.

Harold Creighton, Jr., 11, and Harley Topkan, 14, said that they had been "initiating" Merrill for a period of two weeks, according to police. After being questioned at police headquarters and the charge of "murder" written on their arrest tickets, the boys were released in the custody of their parents.

Merrill died yesterday in Hur- ley hospital. The boy's body, according to his father, Guy Putnam, was a mass of bruises and his muscles were in knots all over his body. Before his death, Merrill accused Creigh- ton and Topkan of beating him and pulling his hair.

POLICE SHAKEUP SEEMS PROBABLE

Youngstown Scene Of Federal Operations;
Booze Missing

Youngstown, O., July 8.—General shakeup of the local police de- partment by the mayor in prospect today as a result of the continued disappearance of confiscated liquor and two policemen, R. R. Byerly and Andrew Przelski, have been sus- pended. Federal prohibition agents alleged they caught Byerly passing a gallon of seized corn liquor through a police station window to Przelski on June 22.

Prior to the arrival of the federal men the chief of police had re- ported to the mayor that confiscated liquor was disappearing from the city jail in large quantities and that he was unable to find the leak.

Federal operatives reported to James M. Doran, prohibition director in Washington, that "higher-ups" were involved in the liquor dis- appearance. The mayor has prom- ised a statement on the situation for early this week.

YOUTH DIES OF BULLET WOUND

Irate Man Shoots When Firecrackers Annoy Him; Blanket Murder
Charge Is Filed

Louisville, Ky., July 8.—Explosion of a fire cracker here had today led to the death of a 16-year-old youth and the filing of a blanket charge of murder against a 62-year-old man, the father of 15 children.

Cyril Brown, 16, the dead youth, it is alleged, tossed a firecracker under Joseph Biller's feet while the latter was sitting on the porch of his home. Becoming angry at the boy's actions, Biller went into the house, returned with a pistol and shot and fatally wounded the lad.

MANY INJURED IN BALL PARK FIRE DISASTER

Four May Die As Result
Of Rush From Stands

103 In Hospitals After Injured Are Removed;
Question Owner

Detroit, July 8.—Crushed and trampled in a stampede for exits when the wooden main grandstand of the Mack ball park burst into flames, 103 persons were in hospitals today, four of them near death.

The fire and panic occurred just before the hour set for the start of the opening game of a double-header between the Detroit Stars and the Kansas City Monarchs, negro teams.

Those probably fatally hurt are Richard Ross, 35; James Thomas, 34, and Levy Thomas, 19, who suffered fractured skulls, and William Har- vey, 32, whose spine was broken.

Most of the other victims, among them many women and children, sustained fractures of limbs. Dozens of others knuckled down and cut and bruised in the scramble were re- ceiving medical attention in their homes.

The majority of the more seriously hurt were those battered down by the descending heels of fear-strick- en fans who jumped from the upper tiers onto the milling mass.

Police officials investigating the fire questioned John Roelink, head of the Mack Avenue Exhibition company, which operates the park. He said he had brought into the park a five-gallon can of gasoline he intended to spread on the wet ground and ignite to dry the soil.

As he was about to touch a match to the gasoline, he asserted, he heard cries of "fire" and, looking up, saw flames enveloping the west end of the stand. Many in the upper seats leaped 30 feet to the ground. Thurst in the center of the stand surged down toward the field. Some jumped upon the heads of those be- low.

Detective Lieutenant George W. Smith, head of the arson squad, said he believed gasoline was not the cause of the blaze but a match dropped by someone set fire to the dry wood of the stand.

SECOND FLIGHT IF MARK FALLS

Cleveland Fliers Planning
Another Attempt If
Californians Win

Cleveland, July 8.—While wishing the California endurance fliers, Mendell and Reinhardt, the best of luck in their attempt to shatter the Newcomb-Mitchell record, Otto Leisy, backer of the local endurance record holders, said today he was ready to sponsor another attempt to break the record if the mark set here last week falls.

"We are going to keep that record in Ohio," said Leisy. "I am ready to back Newk and Mitch again whenever they say."

Byron K. Newcomb and Roy L. Mitchell, the new record holders, accepted an offer to appear at a local vaudeville house and tell of their flight adventures on a four-show-a-day schedule.

Their plans after the end of the vaudeville engagement which runs for only one week are indefinite, but Mitchell said he was eager to get back on his Cleveland-Louisville air mail route.

The fliers were to be guests at a luncheon in a downtown hotel at noon today, and tonight an elaborate program in celebration of their feat has been arranged at a local amusement park, with City Manager William R. Hopkins in charge.

Wife Confident

Cleveland, July 8.—More than 90 hours after their departure in a 16-foot motor boat on a trip across Lake Erie, no word had been re- ceived here today from Thomas Patterson and John Rossow.

Friends have given up hope that the men ever will be found alive, but not so with Patterson's wife and 14-year-old daughter, Mildred. They waited confidently in their home for favorable word from the search- ing party.

Patterson, business agent for the Lathers Union, and Rossow, a boat tender, left the dock here at 5:20 a. m., last Thursday in the Ruth V. They carried 12 gallons of gaso- line in the main fuel tank and a reserve supply of 10 gallons.

Children's Camp Will Open In Columbiana Co. On Tuesday

Sale of Seals Averages
Over Six Cents Per Capita, Report

Lisbon, July 8.—Columbiana county stood sixth in the sale of public health league stamps during the last holiday season, according to a report received by Attorney George L. Laf- erty, secretary of the Columbiana County Public Health League. The sale of these seals averaged 6.7 per capita in Columbiana county, which is a new county record.

The camp will be maintained on the same site as last year, the property being owned by the county, and ad- joining the County Home farm lands on the west. Children will be kept in camp six weeks, and during this period they will be under the direction of Mrs. Mary Masters Turner, registered nurse.

The camp has been instituted for the purpose of building up the undernourished and under privileged child.

249 SAVED AS SHIPS COLLIDE; INQUIRIES OPEN

Masterly Seamanship And

GUARD CUTTER RAMS

Three-Way Investigation
Being Made of Crash
In Dense Fog

Boston, July 8.—A three-fold in- vestigation was launched today into the Sabbath morning sea crash in a dense fog 75 miles off Boston light between the coast guard patrol boat Agassiz and the Nova Scotia passen- ger liner Prince George, whose 249 passengers were saved by masterly seamanship on the part of both crews.

One inquiry was ordered by the New England division headquarters of the coast guard service. A second probe was launched by officials of the Eastern Steamship lines, opera- tors of the Prince George and an- other general investigation was set in motion by the United States steamship inspection service.

President Eugene E. O'Donnell, of the steamship company, raised the question of whether the coast guardman was scolding her fog horn at the time of the collision. The Prince George was blowing her siren, he said, was on her regular course and proceeding at a moderate rate of speed. Coast guard officials were reluctant in discussing the accident points until the official probes are under way.

Wheelman Is Injured
Seaman Olie Hauser, who was at the wheel of the Agassiz when the prow of the coast guardman pierced the forepeak of the steamship tear- ing a jagged hole above and below the water line was still confined to the naval hospital at Chelsea to- day with an injured leg. Only one passenger aboard the Prince George suffered injury.

The 249 passengers of the liner, including 75 children, were at their homes, thanking their lucky stars that they had been snatched from death by brave seamanship aided by a calm sea.

In thrilling stories told prior to leaving for their homes the pas- sengers of the Prince George agreed the women and children first tradi- tion of the sea had been lived up to the letter.

Some of the women reported that some of the men were more excited than the women, that the men crowded in the reach for the life preservers. But when it came to the actual time of rescue by forming lines in front of two gangplanks and by leaping with the assistance of sailors from the deck of the liner to the deck of the Agassiz, women and children were given the right of way.

No Actual Panic

Williams, Yancey In Air After Rising Off Sands At Old Orchard

Plane Disappears In Fog Bank With Eternal City
As Objective; Plan Fifty-Hour Flight To Reach European Destination

Old Orchard Beach, Maine, July 8.—Undaunted by a series of accidents and delays, two courageous American air- men today started on a non-stop 4,800 mile flight to Rome. Pilot Roger Q. Williams and Captain Lewis A. Yancey, navigator, swept off the beach here today at 8:45 a. m. (Eastern Daylight Time) in the Bellanca monoplane Path- finder, bound to the eternal city on the most ambitious trans- Atlantic air voyage in the history of aviation.

It was the longest attempted trans-Atlantic hop on record. The Americans planned to be in Rome within 50 hours.

Balked for nearly two hours to- day by thick banks of fog, the Pathfinder finally ran down the beach to the cheers and shouts of 2,000 persons and after reaching a point approximately one mile and a quarter from the starting point, swept off the sandy strand.

Climbing to 250 feet, the Path- finder continued in a southerly di- rection for several minutes and then made a wide circle.

Fog Obscures Vision
The fog obscured the vision of those on the beach but they could make out in the mist an outline of the Rome-bound craft as she swung eastward and began to gain alti- tude.

As the intrepid American birdmen turned seaward the coastguard am- phibian Leoning, piloted by Lieuten- ant Leonard M. Melka, went into the air as a convoy for a hundred miles out.

Following the Leoning the flying boat Savia-Marchetti, carrying a party of 14 New York persons went aloft to join in the convoy. Aboard the flying boat was Miss Thea Rasche, the German "flying frau- lin" who is making plans for a solo flight to Berlin from this beach within a month.

Five minutes after the takeoff executed perfectly by Pilot Roger Williams, the Pathfinder could be seen dimly through the fog gain- ing altitude. A few minutes later she was lost to sight, at that time being headed toward Cape Elizabeth.

To Fly Above Fog
Williams and Yancey were shaping a course to the eastward to Cape Sable, planning to fly along the coastline of Maine but high above the fog banks.

Off Cape Sable the airman planned to swing east southeast to the "corners" of the junction of the trans-Atlantic ship lane, about 1,000 miles out. From there they will (Continued on Page 5)

SCHOOL CHANGE DISCUSSION SOON

Centralization of County
Areas Meets With
Some Opposition

Discussion of centralization of the rural school system of Salem town- ship will be held at a meeting at Washingtonville school building, at 8 p. m. Friday. The plan will be discussed before rural visitors and explained by members of the Co- lumbiana county school board.

The movement for consolidation of Salem township rural schools has been in progress for some time, but is meeting opposition in certain sections. Residents of districts in rural communities are strongly op- posing the project, and are now cir- culating petitions against it.

Advocates of the plan propose the construction of centralized schools in Leetonia and Washingtonville. A grade school will be maintained for township pupils at Washingtonville, and a high school at Leetonia, under the plan.

MOONEY-BILLINGS CASE

The story of the Mooney and Billings case of California is a simple one, but it has been told and retold so many times and in so many different ways that it has become nationally known. At the present, a Mooney-Billings committee presenting names such as Harry Elmer Barnes, Clarence Darrow, Jerome Davis, Glenn Frank, Finnian Hurst, Philip La Follette, Sinclair Lewis, H. L. Mencken, Stephen S. Wise and many others is actively engaged in retelling it in such a way that the nation and Californians in particular will do something about it.

Briefly, the situation is this: two militant trade unionists, Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings are serving the thirteenth year of life sentences in California prisons, convicted on perjured testimony of planting a bomb that killed ten and wounded forty persons during a preparedness day parade in San Francisco in 1916. The perjury, disclosed after their conviction, could not be reviewed by the courts, but both the judge and the jury who convicted Mooney have declared him to be innocent in the light of disclosures made subsequent to the trial. The trial judge, backed by the convictions of the jury and police officials is chief sponsor of the pardon now before Governor C. C. Young of California. If Mooney is proven to be innocent, Billings, convicted on the same testimony, is also innocent.

In spite of the overwhelming weight of the fact that the trial judge, nine of the ten living jurors, the police officials connected with the case and one of the prosecutors have declared their belief in the men's innocence and have urged their release, the opposing forces maintain that, though the men may be innocent of the particular crime for which they are being punished, they should be kept in prison because they have been identified with violence in San Francisco strikes. "We have the right men on the wrong evidence," is the way one of these leaders looks at the matter.

Mooney, originally sentenced to death the crime which it has been conclusively proven was not the result of his activities, had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment after he petitioned for pardon in 1917. The whole history of the case has been colored by national interference from time to time, but the California governors, evidently influenced by powerful pressure from some source, have refused to act. Meanwhile, two innocent men spend the best part of their lives in jail. Both have refused parole, because that would be a tacit admission of guilt for a crime which they stoutly deny having committed.

A vast amount of evidence is obtainable to prove that Mooney was not within incriminating distance of the scene of the crime at the time at which it happened and only one witness, a drug addict, was ever produced to testify that he was seen there. This man later was convicted for perjury. It has since been definitely proven that the prosecutor was deliberately trying to get the two men out of the way and a telephone placed in the prosecutor's office produced enough evidence to send these callous-conscience individuals to prison along with the men whom they convicted had justice not failed so miserably.

After more than a decade of feverish activity, it is possible that enough persons will be aroused to voice a protest sufficiently loud to free these two men. They have been convicted on a false charge and America's highly touted principles cannot stand for that, even if there are millions of dollars concerned.

What Others Say

LINDBERGH—A HINDRANCE?
Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is not as much an aid to aviation as he is a hindrance, in the opinion of Richard Hughes, British novelist, visiting in Boston. This is an unusual and somewhat surprising opinion. The fault, as he reasons it out, is not the colonel's. It comes from that hero-worshipping publicity which the press has foisted upon him against his will in the journalistic effort to make Lindbergh a conqueror of the air. Reporters have emphasized the adventurous side of his flights to such a degree that the comparative safety of travel by air is obscured.

Lindbergh, in British eyes, is the Prince of Wales of America. To aviation, his is the advertising value of the Prince of Wales to the empire. Yet this adulation of the public, according to our novelist, has dealt aviation a blow. When Lindbergh flies it is an adventure. Despite postal routes and the achievements of the men who fly night and day in regular service, the press chronicles of the colonel's unannounced hops stamp in the public mind the impression that he is the pioneer of the sky and the blazer of the air trail. He hopped off in New York and landed safely in Cleveland. Mr. Hughes doubts whether subsidies in continental countries and comparatively high price of air transportation in this country explains failure of public to accept planes as the conventional manner of rapid transit.

Coming here from New York, the visitor was amazed when wholesale cancellations of passage came at the time for the take-off because of a slight mist settling down. Only one passenger accompanied him on the flight, and uncomfortably, gripping the arms of his chair through the entire passage. The final touch was the preparation by this passenger of a sheaf of telegrams to be filed on arrival, announcing that he had landed with a whole skin! For the advance and acceptance of aviation, therefore, Mr. Hughes joins those who would end the saga of the Lindbergh in the news columns and by its absence reduce aviation from adventure to humdrum travel from Boston to Honolulu in maximum comfort.—Boston Transcript.

LINDBERGH—A HINDRANCE?
Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is not as much an aid to aviation as he is a hindrance, in the opinion of Richard Hughes, British novelist, visiting in Boston. This is an unusual and somewhat surprising opinion. The fault, as he reasons it out, is not the colonel's. It comes from that hero-worshipping publicity which the press has foisted upon him against his will in the jour-

other bicyclist on McKinley ave. and both were thrown from their wheels.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, July 9

A day of conflicting forces is notable in interpreting the prevailing astral influences. However, all may not be deemed adverse in nature. There is prospect of the breaking up of a long thwarting obstacle or condition of crystallization, and this will make way for successful dealings with large corporations, organizations or secret societies. New contracts are in order, but it is enjoined that important changes be made with complete discretion.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an important year, with propitious events following the breaking up of old crystallized conditions or obstructions. These make way for favorable alliance with corporations, organizations or secret societies. Diplomats or conspirators may make efforts for negotiations. But be careful in making change lest precipitancy defeat results.

A child born on this day may be industrious, hard-working and faithful, but may win its best success in life by secret agreements, intrigues or diplomacy. It may be talented and versatile.

Human courage should rise to the height of human calamity.

LIVE RIGHT AND YOU NEED NOT FEAR AGE

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

No one wants to be old. It isn't nice to be old. But the worst of it is, we just have to get old.

Suppose I had a sure process for keeping young. What would you give me for the secret? If you are past 60 you would give me half your fortune. I know a man who would give me a million dollars for every year I could add to his life.

It is an interesting fact that boys and girls are not excited over the idea of living to be a hundred.

But after middle life it is a matter of great concern.

Of course we don't want to be old, but isn't it foolish to attempt to fool our acquaintances about it? I say attempt to fool them, because it is only an attempt and a useless one. We just can't fool them. Are will tell with most of us.

One way or another everybody knows the age of everybody else in the community. Usually, fixed-date anyone, but the worst of it is the face is very likely to tell its own story.

It is only an occasional person who escapes the verdict. A shrewd observer rarely misses in the estimate by more than two or three years. We can't escape the truth.

The trouble about the age business is a silly belief that nobody loves you if you are past 40. That is all nonsense.

We love children for their innocence. We love boys and girls in their teens for their sprightliness and vivacity. We love young people in their twenties for their ambitions and their self-consciousness.

It is not until 30 years is reached that life becomes really serious. From that birthday forward you feel you are "old." To everybody under 30 you are old. To everybody above 30 nobody is old till he really is old—80 or more.

We never begin to tell stories about our age till we are past 30. Since we can't hope to fool the young folks, it will do us no good to yarn about it. The rest of the world won't care what the real age is because it does not regard 30-plus as really old.

The cold fact is, we are absolutely wasting our time and our reputation for veracity by all the vain tales about youthfulness. We fool nobody.

By right living, fresh air, exercise, cheerful thought, kindly deeds and particularly by simple eating, you can preserve your figure, your clearness of complexion and the avoidance of wrinkles. Then they will say of you: "She is every bit of 42 but she's a wonder! She doesn't look a day over 30."

Mrs. E. A. N. Q.—What treatment do you advise for gall stones? Can they be dissolved? The X-ray picture revealed four and I have an attack about once every six months.

RACING TANGLE AGAIN LOOMING

Dayton, O., July 8.—Another milestone in the dog racing situation in Ohio will be passed next Saturday night when the Fairfield $100,000 dog racing track opens, near here.

Courty authorities refused to comment when they were told that the contribution system of betting will be allowed.

Any action to stop the races, will have to be taken by those officials in face of recent statement of Gov. ernor Myers Y. Cooper that "county officials have ample authority to deal with the situation."

Governor Cooper, it will be remembered, brought statewide attention to the racing situation when he at one time said, "betting at races in Ohio has got to stop."

Bluebirds of the turf began arriving for the event today. The meet is scheduled to be the biggest sporting venture in Ohio, and a tremendous crowd is expected.

Crowd Arrested

MOB VIOLENCE THREATENS MEN

Federal Men Who Played Part In Deaths Of Men During Raid Moved To Other Jail

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 8.—Fear of mob violence at Tecumseh led to the removal early today from the Pottawatomie county jail to the county jail here of W. M. Thomas, federal prohibition officer, and his three possemen, held in connection with the fatal shooting of James Harris and Oscar Lowry, Tecumseh farmers, during a Fourth of July liquor raid.

The raiders will be returned to Tecumseh tomorrow for preliminary hearing on charges of murder.
Although Tecumseh has a population of only two thousand, more than 2500 persons attended funeral services for Harris and Lowry at the little country church outside of town Sunday.

ROME FLIERS

near above the 41st parallel, which will bring them about 100 miles north of the Azores. They will continue to Cape Ortegal, and thence across France to the Mediterranean and to Rome.

Old Orchard Beach, Me., July 8.—The Bellanca Monoplane Pathfinder, Rome-bound, is a sister ship of the Green Flash, which cracked up on the takeoff to the Eternal city on June 13 here.

The Pathfinder, with light green fuselage and silver wings, was purchased from Mrs. James W. Stillman, of New York. The Pathfinder was formerly known as the "North Star".
The trans-Atlantic monoplane is powered with a nine cylinder single 200-horse power Wright Whirlwind motor. It has a specially designed and specially built propeller which is expected would give increased speed and result in a lower consumption of gasoline.

Carried 500 Gallons of Gas
The Green Flash held 540 gallons of gasoline when her tanks were filled whereas the Pathfinder took slightly less than 500 gallons of gasoline. However, 50 more gallons were stored in containers in the fuselage. Today 20 gallons of benzol were added to the gasoline to prevent vibration of the motor.
The Pathfinder had a total load with fuel and equipment, of 6200 pounds.
The monoplane had a wingspread of 50 feet. On both her sides and tail were painted NX3789.
The Pathfinder has a top speed of 120 miles per hour and a cruising speed of from 95 to 100 miles per hour.

The green and silver colored airship was painted with aluminum paint, as the pigment in this paint was said by the American businessmen to be 100 pounds less than in ordinary paint. Inside and outside the cabin was lined with linen, drawn very tight in order to make the "ship" airworthy and to give her stream lines.

NOTICE

Browns Defeat Hugmen; Phils Lose To Hose

Loop Standing Unchanged As Leaders Both Lose; Pirates, Cubs Win

By HENRY McLEMORE

New York, July 8.—Now is the Yanks' time for a little gnashing of teeth on the side.

Yesterday Chicago took Philadelphia for their second ride in as many days but all New York could do about was to be taken for a ride by St. Louis. It doesn't take the little ooy on the front row to figure out that nothing can be gained in that manner.

The Yank-Brown affair was featured by Pitcher Alvin Crowder sustaining a fracture of the left forearm when struck by Bill Dickey's sizzling liner. Crowder will be out several weeks.

Babe Ruth, who has always had a liking for the St. Louis park found his plans to rap a few home runs during the Yanks' sojourn there, all went due to the erection of an overgrown fishing net in the right field bleachers.

Giants Win Fair

Giant fans received a most pleasant surprise when their idols whipped the Reds in both ends of a double-header, thus gaining a half game on Pittsburgh and Chicago who spent the afternoon winning one game. Fred Fitzsimmons hurled another fine nine innings in the first game, allowing the Reds only four safeties.

Pittsburgh had a picnic at the Robins' expense, walloping the Dodgers, 17-6. The victory didn't gain the Bucs, anything, however, as the McCartymen, handed the Boston Braves a 15-4 trouncing. Rogers Hornsby who seems to have hit his real stride kept up his powerful hitting yesterday, when he smashed a double, triple and home run.

The score of the Giant-Reds games were 8 to 0 and 8 to 7.

COURT NEWS

File Against Company

After Mike Mannella entered into an agreement with A. L. Pugh to purchase from him for $7,000 a tract of land on Ohio avenue, East Liverpool, he paid $700 hand money, and recently tendered the balance of $6,300 to Pugh, who refused to take the money.

This has resulted in a petition being filed in court by Mannella and against Pugh and with the East Ohio Sand company, the Keystone Sand company, Sophia Gipner and W. L. Smith, all being made parties defendant. The petition has been filed by Cochran & Crawford and Brookes & Thompson.

Mannella made his tender of $6,300 July 5 to Pugh and asked for a conveyance which was not obtainable. Mannella has set up that Pugh since entering into the first agreement had a conference with agents of the two sand companies and for the purpose of selling the tract to these interests at a higher price. Pugh, it is said, had only a land contract for the property, this being procured from Sophia Gipner and Mr. Smith.

The court has been asked to grant a restraining order against Pugh from disposing of the tract to others than the plaintiff at the stipulated price.

Ask Restraining Order

A permanent restraining order is sought by Heber H. Blythe and William M. Hill, as tax payers, against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co., preventing the latter from making use of the east side of College st, East Liverpool, between East Third street and the property of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. The court is also asked to prevent the company from making an change on the street, although the council of East Liverpool has vacated a portion of the street at the suggestion of the defendant company, and which is to be used by it.

Sued For Divorce

William S. Armstrong, residing at the Thompson House, East Liverpool, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Lena Armstrong, the petition having been filed by Attorney James E. Davis. The couple were married Sept. 19, 1921, and there is no issue.

Mrs. Armstrong in addition to relating that her husband has been guilty of habitual drunkenness for the last three years, has also set up the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Under the latter cause the plaintiff declared that her husband often struck her and abused her and often threatened to take her life.

Ask Lot Partition

Partition of lot 93 on North Rose st, Salem, is sought in a petition filed by Alf K. L. Coburn for Gertrude Groves, as administratrix against Gertrude Groves, a widow and others.

Report Filed

The report of the trustees as to the investment of money realized from the sale of real estate in the case of Virginia L. Felger against Anna Walker and others has been filed for the purpose of obtaining a court order to sell entailed real estate.

Seeks $2,000 In Suit

William F. Smith has filed suit in common pleas court against Ira M. Pugh and others to recover a claim of $2,000 and for the sale of real estate located in Wayne township.

Sale Confirmed

A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of distribution entered in the foreclosure action of the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co. against John J. Lamp.

Salem Youth to Battle In Third Professional Bout Thursday

Jack O'Keefe, Salem youth trying for laurels in professional football will engage in his third pro bout, when he meets Lloyd Young of Alliance, in a four-round preliminary, at Alliance, Thursday night.

U.S. Doubles Team May Return Davis Cup Honors To America

Victory of Allison and Van Ryn at Wimbledon Declared By Walsh To Be Indication Of Doom For French Cup Contenders

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, July 8.—It was the hand of fate that traced a message of doom to Nebuchadnezzar when the feast was at its height and today it raised an admonitory forefinger as a warning to France, poised with most of the honors within the gift of International lawn tennis, that the inevitable famine is in the offing.

The warning was issued not on the soil of France, to be divorced from the Davis cup at a comparatively early date, or on that of America, the land to which the trophy must ultimately return.

It was issued on the neutral site of Wimbledon where on Saturday Wilmer Allison, the Texan, and Johnny Van Ryn, of New York, gained America's first major victory of recent years in international doubles.

Probably it would be asking the unreasonable to expect the American team of 1929 to lift the famous grail from what many Americans regard as the unhallowed ground it now occupies. Tilden was the only American to reach the Wimbledon semi-finals in the singles and he was beaten by Henri Cochet in straight sets. France, therefore, remains unchallenged in singles play the world over and probably will win in this department the three matches necessary to the retention of the cup in the challenge round late this month.

But the wedge that will loosen its moorings this year and cause the cup to rock and totter and ultimately fall in the year or two immediately following was the victory of Allison and Van Ryn Young, highly inexperienced Americans, in the Wimbledon all-comers' final. It meant that American perseverance finally had beaten Europe—and France in particular—at its own game. It meant that an American doubles team had attained world dominion for the first time since Tilden and Johnston occupied their throne on the sheer brilliance of their individualism. It meant ultimate victory where many had looked forward to years of failure.

Browns Defeat Hugmen; Phils Lose To Hose

Loop Standing Unchanged As Leaders Both Lose; Pirates, Cubs Win

By HENRY McLEMORE
New York, July 8.—Now is the Yankees' time for a little gnashing of teeth on the side.

Yesterday Chicago took Philadelphia for their second ride in as many days but all New York could do about was to be taken for a ride by St. Louis. It doesn't take the little boy on the front row to figure out that nothing can be gained in that manner.

The Yank-Brown affair was featured by Pitcher Alvin Crowder sustaining a fracture of the left forearm when struck by Bill Dickey's sizzling liner. Crowder will be out several weeks.

Babe Ruth, who has always had a liking for the St. Louis park, found his plans to rap a few home runs during the Yanks' sojourn there, all wet, due to the erection of an overgrown fishing net in the right field bleachers.

Giants Win Fair
Giant fans received a most pleasant surprise when their idols whipped the Reds in both ends of a double-header, thus gaining a half game on Pittsburgh and Chicago who spent the afternoon winning one game. Fred Fitzsimmons hurled another five nine innings in the first game, allowing the Reds only four safeties.

Pittsburgh had a picnic at the Robins' expense, walloping the Dodgers, 17-6. The victory didn't gain the Bucs, anything, however, as the McCarthymen handed the Boston Braves a 15-4 trouncing. Roger Hornsby who seems to have hit his real stride kept up his powerful hitting yesterday when he smashed a double, triple and home run.

The score of the Giant-Reds games were 8 to 0 and 8 to 7.

COURT NEWS

File Against Company

After Mike Mannella entered into an agreement with A. L. Pugh to purchase from him for $7,000 a tract of land on Ohio avenue, East Liverpool, he paid $700 hand money, and recently tendered the balance of $6,300 to Pugh, who refused to take the money.

This has resulted in a petition being filed in court by Mannella and against Pugh and with the East Ohio Sand company, the Keystone Sand company, Sophia Gipner and W. L. Smith, all being made parties defendant. The petition has been filed by Cochran & Crawford and Brookes & Thompson.

Mannella made his tender of $6,300 July 5 to Pugh and asked for a conveyance which was not obtainable. Mannella has set up that Pugh since entering into the first agreement had a conference with agents of the two sand companies and for the purpose of selling the tract to these interests at a higher price. Pugh, it is said, had only a land contract for the property, this being procured from Sophia Gipner and Mr. Smith.

The court has been asked to grant a restraining order against Pugh from despoiling of the tract to others than the plaintiff at the stipulated price.

Ask Restraining Order

A permanent restraining order is sought by Heber H. Blythe and William M. Hill, as tax payers, against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co., preventing the latter from making use of the east side of College st., East Liverpool, between East Third street and the property of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. The court is also asked to prevent the company from making an change on the street, although the council of East Liverpool has vacated a portion of the street at the suggestion of the defendant company, and which is to be used by it.

Sued For Divorce

William S. Armstrong, residing at the Thompson House, East Liverpool, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Lena Armstrong, the petition having been filed by Attorney James E. Davis. The couple were married Sept. 19, 1921, and there is no issue.

Mrs. Armstrong in addition to relating that her husband has been guilty of habitual drunkenness for the last three years, has also set up the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Under the latter cause the plaintiff declared that her husband often struck her and abused her and often threatened to take her life.

Asks Lot Partition

Partition of lot 93 on North Rose st. Salem, is sought in a petition filed by Atty K. L. Colburn for Gertrude Groves, as administratrix against Gertrude Groves, a widow and others.

Report Filed

The report of the trustees as to the investment of money realized from the sale of real estate in the case of Virginia L. Felger against Anna Walker and others has filed for the purpose of obtaining a court order to sell entailed real estate.

Seeks $2,000 In Suit

William F. Smith has filed suit in common pleas court against Ira M. Pugh and others to recover a claim of $2,000 and for the sale of real estate located in Wayne township.

Sale Confirmed

A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of distribution entered in the foreclosure action of the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co. against John J. Lamp.

Coldwater, Kas.—The harvesting of the salt crop along the flats of the Cimarron river here, is under way.

The flats produce salt in such great quantity that the farmers scoop it into their trucks and haul it to their farms. This year the yield is about average, the salt covering the flats measuring more than two inches in depth.

MOVIES

"SYNCOPE" is derived from "Stepping High", the novel by Gene Markey and whirled tumultuously about the careers of the team of Darrell and Eloane, a pair of Broadway hoofers, wedded, and striving for Broadway honors. Their various careers take them from the small time haunts to the cabarets and musical comedy atmosphere of New York with all the temptations, heart-breaks, jealousies, fears and bursting glories of the world of make-believe. These roles are in the competent hands and voices of Barbara Bennett and Bobby Watson playing these leading roles one finds laughs and tears enough for several evenings of big and soul-satisfying entertainment.

The big honors, of course, go to Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians who, in nine rousing jazz numbers, literally riot the show. Fred Waring's band has earned an international reputation by stage appearances the past seven years.

Morton Downey's singing of three new song hits, especially written for this show, figured among the outstanding features of a show plethoric with delightful numbers. There was a song by the piquant and vivacious Dorothy Lee which exercised its delightful spell and another by Gonia Zienka, distinguished soprano soloist. Two numbers by a string orchestra and dancing on the light fantastic by Barbara Bennett, daughter of the famed Richard Bennett, and former partner of Maurice, one of the greatest dancers of all time, provided other notable moments.

"Syncope" is the feature at the Royal.

AT THE STATE

Should a wife risk her honor to further her husband's ambitions? This is the question around which is built the story of "Careers" the new Billie Dove 100 per cent talking picture produced by First National-Vitaphone which comes to the State tonight.

"Careers" was adapted to the screen by Forrest Helvey. The locale of the story is laid in Indo-China. The mood of the story is tropical-tropical passions, tropical temperaments, tropical manners of living.

John Francis Dillon directed "Careers" and the supporting cast is of superlative merit including Antonio Moreno, Noah Beery, Carmel Myers, Thelma Todd, Robert Frazer, Sojin, Robert Schable, Holmes Herbert, Robert T. Haines, Crawford Kent, Kithou, Marte Faust and Count Andre de Soguro, the latter the famous opera singer who sings a number in French.

TALKING COMEDY
Lloyd Hamilton, that famous and popular comedian with the checkered tie and cap, the laugh-compelling hip-kick-and-atk-walk and the inimitable comedy in a net, is seen in his first all-talking comedy, "His Big Minute," on the program of the State Theatre.

GIRL CONFESSES TO TORCH DEATH

Burned Body With Gasoline After Killing: Uses Auto To Take Remains To Lonely Spot

Toulon, Ill., July 8.—Six-foot, 230-pound Laura Weaver, 21-year-old daughter of a wealthy retired farmer, today was a prisoner charged with the murder of her middle-aged lover, Wilmer T. Kisseman, whom she confessed she strangled with his own belt and then burned the body drenched with naphtha.

She killed Kisseman, who was 52, because he was drunk and cruel, she said. The slaying took place in their apartment over the Yellow Goose, a resort in Wyoming, Ill., on Sunday morning, June 30, while other folk in the quiet village were attending church services.

Miss Weaver said she tied the body with fish line, wrapped it in a patchwork bed quilt, dumped it in the back of her automobile and drove 50 miles to a lonely spot where she soaked it with naphtha and left it blazing in a ditch.

OUR READERS

Editor, The News:
Allow me to say through the columns of The News that the expected has happened. The city council has been whipped into line, and the voters are going to vote again on the surface pond proposition.

This same proposition with a coat of whitewash added was settled not many years ago to the satisfaction of most Salem citizens. Such being the case, the proper action council should have taken would have been to table the report of the water committee appointed by a former mayor and give the advocates of the surface water $200,000 proposition a chance to petition for a referendum vote.

I understand why council took the action they did. Passing the buck, at the same time, doing their friends a favor has been the attitude of some of the members of the present council for some time.

Several of council are non-committal as to their stand whether Salem taxpayers can be limmed into spending $200,000 or more. Well it does not make any difference what their opinion is, or how they vote next election. They know if $200,000 is not enough to finish the project there are lawful ways of getting it, it matter not if it be $100,000 or $300,000 more.

It must be finished, if once started, regardless of the cost. Put that under your hat Mr. Voter.

Mr. Slocum is of the opinion our present supply of water is limited. I will ask him in what way, and to what extent. How does he arrive at those deductions?

Where are his indisputable facts he mentions. Who ever heard of an under ground supply of water being limited. I think I will send that to "Puck."

Mr. Slocum says we must offer soft water as an inducement to new industries to locate in Salem. This is O. K. with me, but Mr. Slocum cannot see any other way to get it only by the surface pond method at a huge expense. The real reason Salem is shy on new industries is on account of high taxes, and still Mr. Slocum and other bright lights of the city would continue to raise taxes.

Mr. Slocum and others insist we must have soft water for industrial use. Why is it that our pumping station boilers have been doing business for years with this present water supply and will continue to pass boiler inspectors for years to come. If we must have soft water for industrial use, why does not F. S. Barchhoff advocate piping of the pure water he has been telling us about at the disposal plant, direct to the industries on the flats? Enough soft water is lost there every day to furnish a hundred industries for a week.
